

A detailed botanical illustration of Ornithogalum nutans. The plant features a central, upright stem with several long, narrow, lanceolate leaves that are green with prominent parallel veins. At the top of the stem is a dense, elongated spike of small, bell-shaped flowers. The flowers are light-colored with darker, possibly purple or brown, markings on the petals. The illustration is set against a plain, light-colored background.

Ornithogalum nutans. (Linné.)