

A detailed botanical illustration of a creeping grass. The plant features several long, slender, arching leaves that are green with prominent veins. A central culm rises from the base, bearing a dense, elongated spike of green, pointed spikelets. The root system is depicted at the base, showing a network of thin, brown roots. The entire illustration is rendered in a classic scientific style with fine lines and naturalistic coloring.

Agropyrum repens. (Galyot de Beauvois.
Schrader)
variété subulatum.
Agropyre rampant à glumes subulées.
Carcassonne à Saint. Jean.